TAXES MAY STAND NEW REDUCTION

Limit of Recommended Cuts May be Raised by Treasury Officials

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Some treasury officials now hope to be able to recommend a tax reduction of $250,000,000, or even $400,000,000, to the next session of Congress.

Heretofore the understanding has been that $200,000,000 would be about the limit of recommended cuts. The suggestion of a greater reduction resulted from greater tax receipts this year than had been expected.

A budget of $13,000,000,000 for the fiscal year of 1927 now is the aim of Director Lord of the Budget Bureau, who today began preparing the fiscal program.

The total is about $250,000,000 less than the expenditures for the present year, and on the basis of present figures will be the lowest of any year since the war.

Mr. Lord is expected to announce the results of his trip to the French press.

MOB HANGS ATTACKER

Negro Lynched in Missouri

Jail Stormed by Citizens and Colored Prisoner Taken to Death

Three Carloads of Police Reach Scene Too Late to Halt Lynching

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS (Mo.) Aug. 7.—A mob of 500 men this afternoon dragged Miller Mitchell, negro, from the City Jail, where he was being held on a charge of attacking a young white woman, and hanged him to a tree in a ravine a quarter of a mile away.

Two attempts were made by authorities to get the negro away from the jail, but surging crowds in front of the jail thwarted them.

The mob smashed down the jail doors and rushed the guards. Three times the mob had rushed the doors before they were closed.

NEGRO FIGHTS BACK

In the street the crowd started pounding the negro, who screamed and fought back. Still handcuffed, he was lifted high above the heads of a few men, and the march to the tree began.

Leaders in the van of the mob threatened two or three men who voiced objections to lynching the negro as they dragged him along.

In the crowd were several women and children. A score or more of motor cars loaded with men, women and children brought up the rear.

The negro was forced to march down Kansas City avenue, past the police station, and on south a block to a big oak tree.

On the way, a member of the mob procured a rope. The negro, still handcuffed and crying, was hoisted high.

OFFICERS ARRIVE TOO LATE

Three carloads of Kansas City police arrived about fifteen minutes too late to prevent the lynching. There were about fifteen officers in the party.

The victim of the assault was a negro, named Miller Mitchell, 19 years of age, daughter of Charles Holt, a farmer living four and one-half miles northwest of Excelsior Springs.

About 1 o'clock last night, Miss Holt was riding to Lawson, Mo., about eight miles north of here, in a touring car with Leonard Holt, a brother of Charles Holt.

When they stopped the car, a man appeared in front of the car, swinging a flashlight.

When Holt stopped his machine, he said, a negro leaped on the car, and struck him on the head, knocking him unconscious.

It was thrown from the machine and Miss Holt ordered in the rear seat by the negro, she told authorities. When she got into the car, she was attacked by the negro.

Both the girl and Holt identified the negro as their assailant.

FEARS FELT AS TREMBLOR HITS MEXICO

Earthquake Cuts Off All Communication With City Razed Years Ago

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—No word has been received from the State of Guerrero, the center of a heavy earthquake last night, which lasted twenty-five minutes. The quake destroyed all communication with Chilpancingo, capital of the State of Guerrero, which was practically destroyed with many surrounding towns and villages twenty years ago.

A repetition of the quake is feared here, because of its intensity and duration.

This afternoon at 2:30 the back of a building in Avenida Madero, in the center of this city, fell, burying a score or more of workmen and destroying the famous Bach restaurant and cafe. The building under construction is believed to have been damaged by an earthquake here at 10 o'clock this morning. The army, police and firemen are busy removing the wreckage in the hope of rescuing some of the workmen alive.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—A rather severe earthquake at an estimated distance of 1140 miles in a southerly direction from Chicago, was recorded at 1:54 a.m. today on the United States Weather Bureau seismograph at the University of Chicago.

The record showed a sharp movement at 1:54 minutes after the first tremor. The quake ended at 4 a.m.

M'MILLAN PLANS TO HUNT BASE

Flight Planned to Locate Advance Flying Station; Ice Lane Opens Up

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Plans with the MacMillan Arctic expedition, planned today, to fly from Etah, Greenland, over Smith Sound to Ellesmere Island in the hope of selecting a suitable base about half way to Cape Thomas Hubbard, on Axel Heiberg Island, where the advance flying base will be located.

The ice lane from which the expedition is expected to start is opening in the ice of Smith Sound, between Etah and Ellesmere Island.

Tests with the plane yesterday showed them loaded too heavily and rearrangement of the cargo was made necessary. Lieutenant Commander Byrd, in command of the navy section of the expedition, in a radio dispatch sent last night to the Navy Department, told of the activities of the flyers and reported the failure of the engines on the NA-1, one of the three planes carrying the expedition.

"The men with me are tireless," he said, "and will continue to fly until near midnight. A midnight flight over Smith Sound last night disclosed the fact that a water lead is opening up in the ice between here and Ellesmere Island."

EVOLUTION LAW BAN ASKED

Order to Restrain Enforcement of Prohibitory Act Sought by Tennessee Taxpayer

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.) Aug. 7.—A petition for a temporary restraining order against officials of the State of Tennessee and others enjoining them from the enforcement of the Tennessee antievolution law, was filed in United States District Court here today by attorneys representing James Robert Wilson of Rhea Springs, Tenn., a taxpayer of the State.

The petitioner avers that he is the father of five children who attend the public schools of the State and that under the provisions of the Tennessee statute he cannot properly educate them in the modern sciences because he insists that the evolution theory is an inseparable link in such teaching.

It also is insisted that, being a taxpayer and contributor to the public school fund of Tennessee, he is being deprived of liberty and property without due process of law. It is asserted that the act violates the Constitution of Tennessee and the United States and particularly Section 1 of the Constitution of the United States.

TURKISH-BRITISH Issue Dodged by League's Group

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The report of the League of Nations committee appointed more than a year ago to investigate the dispute between Great Britain and Turkey over the Mosul-Iraq boundary was issued by the League today and is a masterpiece of dodging the issue.

It simply puts the matter up to the League to settle, and supplies both Great Britain and Turkey with material for endless future controversy.

The report, which is a document of ninety large pages, in the final recommendation sums up in such a way that either the British or Turkish claim may be accepted.

It possibly is somewhat favorable to Turkey, and it points out that the territory is indisputably Turkish until Turkey agrees to surrender it. On the other hand, the report states that from economic, strategic, geographical and ethnic considerations the British is good, and that by the Turks bad.

NEW OUTLET AT PEARL HARBOR Declared Need

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

HONOLULU, Aug. 7.—Resides the improvement of Pearl Harbor and the entrance channel, permitting the free entrance of the battleships, which has been urged by all visiting congressmen and naval experts, further developments were advocated today by Congressmen Fritts G. Lanham and Tom McKeown of Oklahoma, who urged a second waterway connecting Pearl Harbor with Honolulu Harbor and Kapaemahu basin. This would give the navy two outlets to the sea from Pearl Harbor so the fleet could be bottled up there, which the Congressmen believed to be of the greatest importance.

Congressmen Lanham and McKeown visited Schofield Barracks today declaring that funds must be provided immediately for the completion of a new hospital to replace the present building. They also urged the replacement of obsolete barracks.

BLAST VICTIM'S BODY IDENTIFIEDFormer Employer Says He Recognizes CorpsePreacher Declared Slain in Schwartz LaboratorySuicide Found in Sea May be Missing Chemist

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—The murder victim, whose charred body was found in the laboratory of the Pacific Cellulose Company at Walnut Creek following a mysterious explosion, was positively identified tonight as G. W. Barbe, itinerant laborer. Identification was made by Cecil Barker, Placerville undertaker, an acquaintance of Barbe, who was seen viewing the body in the San Francisco morgue.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—The man who was lured to the plant of the Pacific Cellulose Company at Walnut Creek, murdered and burned in an incendiary fire in July 30, last, was identified today as G. W. Barbe, itinerant laborer and preacher.

Barbe is said to have been a member of the cult of Hermal Brotherhood. Pamphlets of this cult with a name of Barbe written on the fly leaf were found near the charred body.

The identification came from Cecil A. Barker, undertaker, at Placerville, who has known Barbe for more than a year. He came along through the state tonight by Hart Schrader, Jr., handwriting expert of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification at Sacramento, that the handwriting of a letter received by Barbe from Barbe's father, identified with that of an unfinished letter found in the blasted laboratory at Walnut Creek. Barker said that he believed that Barbe had started to write the letter to John H. Barbe, D.D., of 105 Locust street, Jersey Shore, Pa.

SERVED IN ARMY
Martinez officials have communicated with his father, asking him to aid in further identification of the body.

Barker had known Barbe for a little more than a year when he appeared at the home of the Placerville undertaker, asking for work. He worked, went and away. In two months he returned and worked another week. Barker said he was in October of last year.

On July 13 of this year Barbe wrote a letter to Barker at Los Gatos, sending to him his friends his personal papers and identification records from the Army for safekeeping. He had been a private in the quartermaster corps on the Canal Zone in 1920.

In this letter, which begins "Dear friend," as does the letter found at Walnut Creek, Barbe says that he is a "preacher," and is preaching "mostly among society's outcasts." He expresses the hope that he will see Barker in about two months. The address was given as a "general delivery," Los Gatos.

In addition to the letter, which is considered by Martinez officials as an earnest identification, Barker said that the wooden box and cord, burned bits of which were found under the head of the victim, is the same blanket and cord which Barbe carried away with him from Placerville last October when he started on his wandering life.

Barker is bringing with him to San Francisco the identification papers sent to him by Barbe.

PAMPHLET FOUND
The name of Barbe first came into the mysterious case through the finding of a religious pamphlet with this name written on the leaf.

Indications tonight were that any effort of the Martinez coroner's jury to declare the body to be anyone other than Charles Henry Schwartz and to authorize its interment under such identification will be met with court proceedings for possession of the body on behalf of Mrs. Schwartz. Her attorney, E. S. Bell, said that he has an agreement with the Martinez coroner's jury that he will not be disturbed by the body and that he cannot be disposed of without his consent.

"No many people have identified the body as someone other than Charles Henry Schwartz," he said. "I have ceased to be interested in these identification stories. I must be notified by the authorities before any attempt is made to dispose of the body. It is as much under my charge as it is under the charge of the District Attorney of Contra Costa county. At a meeting before me, Sheriff Veale, a court reporter present, we entered into an agreement that the body will be charged of the body. If they try to dispose of it now, they will violate that agreement. I shall enforce the agreement with every means in my power. The body must be preserved until this whole business is settled. If they try to bury it now, it will merely help whatever case I may have against the insurance companies. How do they know I am not a crook? I am going to play them."

GIRL MAKES THREAT
Prof. E. O. Halarah of Berkeley, in charge of the "reconstruction" of the crime, believes that Schwartz had looked for months for a man who looked like himself and that he had found him in the Santa Cruz Mountains with Miss Elizabeth Adams, the girl whose body was found in the sea last June, saying he had promised to marry her.

Miss Adams said enigmatically tonight. "Schwartz is a dangerous man. It is time that I was telling what I know about him." She would not explain further. She will be questioned by officials.

Microscopic examination of the swappings of the wrecked laboratory are now being made by Prof. Heinrich. He found today a cake of soap, wrapped in an old paper bread wrapper and a bag of ground coffee, such as are used by laborers. There was also found a pair of workman's socks with a price tag attached.

The adoption of Mary Louise Spas by Edward Browning, wealthy New Yorker, as a companion to his daughter, has not only developed an investigation by the Department of Public Welfare, but has precipitated a deluge of criticism of the girl and her parents and of doubt as to the girl's age and her past. Instead of the sophisticated maid of 18 years the girl is now a young man steps forward with the announcement that he and Mary have long been engaged to marry. The Department of Public Welfare investigation centers about the asserted gift of $1000 from Browning to the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Spas (above).

On July 14, found in the laboratory, was checked up by Oakland police today. T. Burke, assistant manager of the store, said that he had sold a similar pair of shoes to Schwartz on April 24 and thought that the July 14 purchase had been made by Schwartz. Chief of Police Drew telephoned to Sheriff Veale today that he had discovered that Mrs. Schwartz had a safety deposit box in the Central National Bank of Oakland under the name of Mrs. Alice Orchard and also under the name of Mrs. Alice Warren, and that Schwartz had a box under the name of H. H. Orchard. Mrs. Schwartz had emptied these boxes last Monday, he said.

Sheriff Veale revealed that he had been with Mrs. Schwartz when she opened the boxes. She had explained that Orchard was her maiden name and that her first husband, killed in the war, was named Orchard. He said that Schwartz knew why Schwartz had a box under an assumed name.

WHITE WAY CINDERELLA'S PADLOCKING DEFENDEDNew York Dry Chief Tells
of Measures to Enforce Prohibition

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
LINCOLN (Neb.), Aug. 7.—Emory Buckner, United States Attorney of New York, explained his padlocking of cafes along Broadway's White Way in an address before an Epworth League assembly here by declaring that "Congress never has and never will do anything to patronize the implement dealer." He is spending his vacation here.

"I do not know whether prohibition can be enforced in New York," Mr. Buckner said, "because it has never been tried intelligently. Lack of State enforcement legislation throws the burden on Federal authorities and machinery makes that a colossal task."

"Huge seizures do not affect the quantity or price of liquor, and the thousands of petty arrests of bootleggers have not been, in fact, futile in stemming the flow."

"I have done the only thing a prohibitionist can do," he said, "and that is to padlock the place. I have adopted the policy of picking and choosing. I want to get the big bootlegger, the rich restaurant owner, the place where the padlock easily pinches the owner who can easily pay the fine."

The padlocking is done with a jury and ten minutes of the court's time is worth hours of police work. This policy has been forced on me because the government has given me nothing."

MOTHER SCORES
KAISER IN NOTEBlamed for Hostility in England in 1897Empress Frederic's Letter
Tells of DistrustMemoirs of Von Reischach
Reveal Attitude

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
BERLIN, Aug. 7.—A frank criticism of the ex-Kaiser by his mother, the late dowager, Empress Frederic, is revealed by the memoirs of Baron von Reischach, the last Lord Marshal and Royal Equerry of the Hohenzollerns. In his book of memoirs, "Under the Emperor," the author quotes the dowager Empress Frederic in a letter she wrote to him from England in 1897 in response to his appeal to her to try and modify the prevalent severity of opinion about the Kaiser's leading circles of England at the time.

"It is, naturally, my heartfelt desire to do everything within my power to bring about a feeling of irritation or bitterness of opinion. But it is utterly impossible to do this. I am, however, heaven be praised, and we may safely ignore them. It would be deplorable indeed if the Kaiser were to consider pre-eminently such papers from which he could hand with which he has himself attained inestimable advantages for Germany. Now our only hope is that in the course of time he will grow over past errors and ultimately a more comfortable relation to the German people."

"If, however, the German press continues to copy the hostile attitude of the Kaiser, Germany will be driven into the arms of Russia and France and the whole of Europe will be plunged into a state of anarchy. I have most ardently desired peace, but the Kaiser's policy has been to drive us into a state of anarchy. JUDGE GRAY OF DELAWARE DIESFormer Senator Succumbs at 85 Years of AgeHonored by Presidents With Varied CommissionsKnown for Helping Settle
Coal Strike in 1902

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WILMINGTON (Del.), Aug. 7.—George Gray, former United States Senator from Delaware and retired judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, died at his home today. He was 85 years of age.

Judge Gray, renowned arbitrator of international questions as well as national industrial disputes, was twice honored by the Democratic Party of his native State as their choice for the Democratic nomination for President, first in 1892 and again in 1908.

Already famous as a jurist and a leader of the United States Senate, he succeeded Thomas F. Bayard in 1885 and served fourteen years in the Senate. Judge Gray came into prominence as an international figure in 1898, when President McKinley appointed him one of the commissioners to Paris to negotiate the treaty of peace with Spain at the conclusion of the Spanish-American War.

The next year he was made an Associate Justice of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, where he remained until he reached the age of retirement.

In 1915, Judge Gray was appointed by the President as a member of the Joint High Commission at Quebec and in 1916 he was appointed a member of the International Permanent Court of Arbitration under The Hague Convention.

When the great anthracite strike of 1902, involving 147,000 miners, threatened to paralyze the coal supply throughout the United States, and both sides seemed hopelessly deadlocked after five months of controversy, the operator called on President Roosevelt to name a commission to arbitrate. He designated Judge Gray chairman.

The commission's efforts at conciliation were successful, and the miners went back to work. Three years later, Judge Gray, as arbitrator, brought peace to Alabama coal fields after months of strife.

In 1910 he was appointed as American envoy to the North Atlantic Fisheries Arbitration Court between the United States and Great Britain, and in 1915 he was again designated as a peace commissioner to Great Britain.

He was for years a regular contributor to the executive committee of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

He was born at New Castle, Del., on May 4, 1840.

His first statement was that when his father heard him coming downstairs last night, he called out "Who's there?" The boy said he had no answer. "I just let him hear."

In his detailed confession Vandervoort said:

"For the last four years my private home has been one of constant bickering between father and mother, and this sometimes included the children. I was not so bad. It had grown worse until we were all nearly crazy. I believe mother's health was ruined by the constant bickering."

"My father and I were good friends until last night. I was a constant fighting undermined him. I know that it was I who did it. I know that it was I who did it. I know that it was I who did it."

"I think because of my practice of deceiving mother in things we knew were for the best which she would object to, had an effect. For some time my father and I have been contemplating the purchase of a rifle and last night I went to the store and got it. I did not let my mother know I had it. She suspected something and she and my father and I had a heated discussion. I was declared she wished she were dead and my father said the same thing."

"I know that is not any reason for my act, but I know that the fact that when last night I woke up, that is, got up and dressed—I went upstairs and shot my father. I am not guilty awake to realize what I was doing when I did it, and

FINAL SHOT ON ROADWAY FIRED

Highway in Giant Forest Being Widened and Graded

New Route Will be Ready for 1926 Season

Civil War Veteran Honored Guest at Park

(SPECIAL DISPATCH)
SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK, Aug. 7.—Travel to both Sequoia and Gen. Grant Parks is holding up well and promises a record season. Both the Giant Forest and the Sequoia Forests are in excellent condition.

Tomorrow night a mammoth campfire entertainment is planned at the Giant Forest Lodge, the master of ceremonies being the camp physician, Dr. Morton W. Fraser. The doctor promises an entertainment that will make even the Big Trees take notice and they are somewhat blasé after 5000 years of life.

The final shot of powder that linked the General's Highway with the old Smith Grade from Giant Forest was fired shortly after midnight on July 24, last, by the night crew. Although the road has been cut through the forest, it will be open to travel into Giant Forest this season, as much work on widening and grading and general improvement is in progress. Visitors will not be able to come up the new road until the 1926 season. The General's Highway, as the new road is called, will shorten the distance to the Big Trees by nearly five miles and will have a maximum grade of 3 per cent, as compared with over 17 on present road. It is expected that running time from Three Rivers to Giant Forest will be less than one and one-half hours. The road is finally smoothed out and opened to travel in April or May.

With the ultimate intention of linking Gen. Grant and Sequoia directly by automobile road, a surveying party left Giant Forest via the Halfway and Black Oak Trails with Ranger George Brooks to run two or three preliminary lines.

This survey work is under direction of Resident Engineer W. M. Austin, at Adir Co. Headquarters.

John Wesley Shryer has been an honored guest in Giant Forest. He marched with Gen. Sherman to the sea during the Civil War when 17 years of age and now at 78 years of age he is still hale and hearty.

Mr. Shryer was born in Salem, Ind., in 1847. He was 16 years of age when he ran away from home and joined the Union forces at Indianapolis. He served two years in the war. Mr. Shryer says that history teaches us that Sherman burned the city of Atlanta. He was with Sherman's forces. In retreating, Sherman's forces were fired by the enemy. Sherman did not burn Atlanta. Incidentally, Mr. Shryer celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday in Giant Forest on July 24, last, under the shadow of Gen. Sherman's tree.

RED TERROR REIGN REVIVED

Petrograd Dispatches Tell of Fifty-eight Executions Without Trial; Former Premier Included

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONDON, Aug. 7.—Partial renewal of the reign of terror in Russia as practiced during the period of military Communism which lasted from 1918 to 1921, was strongly indicated in reliable dispatches reaching London from Petrograd. It stated that fifty-eight persons had been shot without trial by Petrograd Cheka on or about July 2, last, and nothing is known of the ground upon which the arrests and executions were made.

Some of the victims were connected with the old privileged schools. Others were simply officers and officials of the Cheka regime, who had been hitherto left unharmed and so far as is known, had not engaged in any political activity.

A partial list includes the name of Prince Galitzin, the last Premier under the old regime, once reported earning a living as a shoemaker in Moscow. Wives of the officers were also executed. The ordinary practice of the Cheka, when it discovered a conspiracy against the state, is to arrest those concerned and arrange a public trial. But in the recent wholesale execution of members of the old upper class were arrested indiscriminately and shot on no reason other than that they were "bourgeois."

It is asserted an explanation may be found in the fact that the Bolsheviks, who will soon be in power, are in a war with the capitalist powers. In all such times of panic it is the bourgeoisie who are the first to be shot.

In the meantime the executions and persecutions have included a vast number of persons of scores of innocent persons.

DESERTED BRIDE IN KNAPP CASE

Police of Baltimore Reveal Secret After Month

Hope Held "Thrill Slaying" Fugitive Might Return

Wife Declares Readiness to Testify as to Sanity

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BALTIMORE (Md.), Aug. 7.—The deserted bride of Philip K. Knapp, son of wealthy Syracuse parents, who is hunted throughout the United States as a "thrill slayer," met, married and deserted the daughter of a Baltimore Jewish merchant last March. Police in the Maryland city yesterday revealed the secret of the marriage and the bride's readiness to testify as to the sanity of her husband.

The bride was Mary M. Tabb, 24 years of age, and the ceremony took place at Overlea, nine miles from Baltimore, March 19 last. It was performed by Rev. J. Cookman Baker, a Baptist minister. Knapp and his bride honeymooned two weeks in Philadelphia.

When the bride's parents objected to the union Knapp suggested his bride return home for a week and her parents' forgiveness and a visit to his parents in Syracuse. She refused to return home and the next day got a letter from Knapp.

"I am a Gentile, and you are a Jew," he wrote, "I cannot get past that. My father is a rich builder and I am a graduate of Cornell. My family would never stand for my marrying a Jew. You had better forget me."

The next month Knapp renewed his acquaintance with Ruth Perry Stark here. Miss Stark asserted it was then she became engaged to Knapp. Tabb was planning to have the marriage of his daughter annulled when the search began for the slayer of Louis Penella, a (N. Y.) taxi driver, and the police kept their information quiet in the expectation Knapp might return to Baltimore for his bride.

Corinthian Fraternity off for Santa Barbara Regatta

W. W. PEDDER
ENTERS DIABLO

San Clemente Race Victor to Meet Famous Uncas

151 Hydroplanes Journey to Regatta by Auto

Yachtsmen Leave for Races
at Santa Barbara

Sailing craft of all types, passenger trains, automobiles and power boats are transposing Southern California's Corinthian Fraternity to Santa Barbara, where what promises to be the greatest Southern California Association regatta in the history of the organization.

At noon today thirty trim sailing craft set sail for their best to windward up the 100 miles of coast line to Crescent Bay, Santa Barbara, where they will be the rendezvous for local yachtsmen for the coming week.

Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock a fleet of cruisers, press cruises and other classes of power boats leave on their race to the Channel City tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock another chapter of the local yachting fraternity will be on their way north aboard the Vaqueiro, hired for regatta week by the Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

Aboard the Vaqueiro will be several small sailing craft and over 140 members of the club. Some of the club's stars will be towed by the Diesel yacht.

GO BY TRAIN

While many of their friends are either aboard racing yachts or the Vaqueiro, others are journeying to Santa Barbara via coast route trains.

Part of the local yacht fleet will turn water and journey to Santa Barbara by land. The quartet of 151-inch displacement hydroplanes, which have been opening the eyes of speedboat enthusiasts this summer, will journey north to the Channel City by auto caravan.

In the group leaving Hollywood Sunday night will be Dick Lyons, towing his smiling Dan II; Al Christie, with Miss Sunset; Vernon Walker, and his Miss Hollywood; and Billy Meyer with his Lorena A.

The only other local speedboat to participate in the regatta, events will be Norman Able's Perculator, with which Norm hopes to trim the feet of Santa Barbara water cars.

The Perculator will go to Santa Barbara aboard the Vaqueiro.

DIABLO WILL RACE

The last announcement to guarantee an unusually successful week of racing came from W. W. Pedder, skipper of the famous Diablo, which has been the center of much argument since it defeated the famous Uncas, now the Walgar, in the San Clemente race.

According to Pedder, the Diablo will very much in evidence at the regatta and is ready to meet all comers among the large yachts and schooners. He expects to make his supreme attempt at Santa Barbara to defend the Southern California championship won by the Diablo in 1923 and successfully defended off Coronado last season.

The Diablo has been equipped with a lot of new sails, including a giant fisherman with 174 square feet of sail, a new ballhoop with 900 square feet of sail area. Pedder will be ready to use any and all of his sails in an effort to win the 100-mile coast race to Santa Barbara, as well as the other events in which he will enter.

No little interest will be occasioned when the rival Uncas meets the Diablo in the first and any other of the regatta events.

O'BRIEN WANTS GOODRICH

Tommy Hopes to Beat Cello at Olympic Wednesday and Then Get Shot at Champion

A match with Jimmy Goodrich, New York's world lightweight champion, is Tommy O'Brien's desire. The elongated Celt, who meets Tommy Cello in the ten-round feature event at the second Olympic Auditorium show next Wednesday night has asked the Auditorium promoters to bring Goodrich here for a title struggle. This was done and Matchmaker Tom Andrews declared yesterday that he feels certain he can arrange such a contest, although Goodrich demands a fat sum to come out here.

"I'll knock him if he ever does make up his mind to box me," said O'Brien yesterday. "I saw Goodrich in the New York tournament and made up my mind at that time that he is made to order for me. I'd be ready to meet him at the world today or tomorrow."

The Olympic promoters have arranged an attractive card for the second night festival Wednesday night. Jimmy Fields and Johnny Lamar have been matched, and they will appear in the semifinal round, although the latter was the first half of a double win-up.

SHERIFF JOHN BEATS ANGELS

might be added, had a real good day at bat for the home guards, collecting three hits and scoring all three Scraps during the course of the afternoon.

The Beas hit on Joe Wright for a brace of markers to take the lead in the second, three hits and a walk doing the damage. O'Doul hit, while Lazere walked. Roy Lester, subbing for Fritz Campbell at first, singled to left and scored while Lazere rambled to third. Lazere crossed the plate and scored on the second, turning Kerr's grounder to McAuley into a double play.

SHEEHAN HOMERS

Both sides counted in the third, Sheehan accounting for the Ball Lake tally by blasting a homer over the prominent barrier in left field, while Jacobs worked his way around the paths for the Angel run by singling and completing the route on hits by Stata and Krug.

Hughes took the mound for the Angels in the fourth and the Beas promptly nicked Tom for a runner. Leslie's single against the scoreboard, in the first and any other in the ninth. Koehler and Agnew batted for a perfect percentage, Koehler getting five hits in five trips and Agnew four in four. The score:

ALMOST SCORE

The home guards staged a quelling in the eighth when Krug and Beck hit off with singles. McAuley followed by grounding to Lazere, advancing the runners to second and third. Grimes, batting for Sandberg, popped to Leslie, while Whaley, doing the same thing for Crandall, fanned to put a dismal end on the promising start.

Elmer Jacobs, recently acquired from the Chicago Cubs, will make his Angel debut today, while Bill Pierce will probably twirl for the Beas. Score:

COMMISSION ON EXCHANGE CUT

New York and San Francisco Rates Are Met
Sharp Reduction Is Made on Certain Issues
Savings in Some Cases Close to 50 Per Cent

To meet lower commission rates in the New York and San Francisco stock exchanges, the board of governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday authorized substantial reductions in the rates on certain stocks listed on the exchange. In the case of Southern California Edison common, the reduction is 10 per cent, or 10 cents per share. Agitation for lower rates on certain active issues since Edison shares toward a market on the New York exchange. Commission rates are lower on the curb than in Los Angeles for stock selling at the price now quoted, and in order to retain the business on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, the board of governors deemed it expedient to meet lower rates on Edison transactions. The rate on Edison shares, which the Los Angeles exchange is 10 per cent, is being reduced to 8 per cent. At present, the amount to a charge of approximately $60 for each 100-share transaction. As the by-laws of the exchange are amended, the reduction applies to all public utility stocks, which will effect a saving in stocks like Southern California Gas preferred, falling between $10 and $125 and subject to a commission of 10 per cent on each share. The San Francisco rate is $25 a 100-share, and the amended commission will be 8 per cent. The amendment, referring to public utility stocks, is as follows: "Stocks of public utility corporations shall be subject to the commission rates in force on the New York and San Francisco exchanges. There shall be no charge for the sale of stock on the New York Stock Exchange shall take precedence. Another concession was written into the by-laws by the committee reducing commission on bank stocks listed on the New York or San Francisco exchanges. The amendment applies particularly to bank of Italy and Bancalari Corporation, both of which are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The rate on bank stocks now is 10 per cent, or 10 cents per share, and the amendment reduces the rate to 8 per cent of the money involved in bank stocks selling above $200 a share. As the by-laws now read after being effect to the amendment, the exceptions are expressed as follows: "Stocks, including bank stocks, which shall be subject to the commission rates in force on the New York and San Francisco exchanges. There shall be no charge for the sale of stock on the New York Stock Exchange shall take precedence. The average for each account is the highest of any school savings association in the United States, 1924.

School Savings Deposits Show Large Increase

Constant growth in number of accounts and total deposits of the Los Angeles Bank School Savings Association during the past three years was shown in a report made yesterday by Avery J. Gray, secretary of the association, through president A. H. Thomas, Jr., of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank. On July 1, last, there were 68,118 savings accounts in the association, with total deposits of $10,446,779.93, an average of $154.42 per account. This compared with 67,779 accounts in July, 1924, with total deposits of $8,860,221.12, an average of $130.84. In August 1, 1925, there were 22,854 savings accounts with total deposits of $2,390,848.89, an average of $104.60. The report shows an increase in the number of accounts and total deposits in the association, a slight decrease in the average of accounts in the last fiscal year. The accounts are believed to be due to the general economic condition. The average for each account is the highest of any school savings association in the United States, 1924.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Wall Street looks upon the reduction of the discount rate of the Bank of England as one of the most important news that has come to the wire since the adoption of the gold standard in 1906. When Great Britain went back to a gold basis last spring objections were raised by those who held payments they made would be in the country to keep money from flowing. The bank rate would be high to effect the adjustment of demand, the adjustment of obtaining funds at low rates has been having. The action of the Bank of England yesterday must have surprised opponents of the gold standard. That the bank is able to cut the discount rate within three months after the return of gold means only one thing. It means

Mr. Banning was the son of General Banning, a pioneer of Wil-mington and was one of the Ban-ning family whose name is promi-nently connected with Catalina Island and Los Angeles Harbor de-velopment and transportation lines.

Mr. Banning was twenty-five years of age, was Vice-president of the Santa Catalina Island Company, consisting of himself and Joseph R. Banning, who owned the famous lake. It is disposed of by them in 1919 to the Virginia Hotel Co. for $250,000, for approximately $2,000,000.

Mr. Banning was treasurer of the Los Angeles Harbor and Wilmington. They built the Hotel St. Catherine, the Hotel Palmdale, the Casino Hermosa and the Cabrillo, all fixed between the island and mainland.

At intervals Mr. Banning came to Los Angeles. He usually came for the sea and time on his father's ships, he came to a United States master's examination at 21 and was long identified through his more than forty years of strenuous activity with the shipping community of the city and its chairman of the old school, Judge and La Paloma, died in a famous episode on the Pacific Coast.

His first business venture was in 1879, when he organized the Pasadena Transfer and Fuel Company. Two years later, while still a minor, he and a boy, he added it to Los Angeles and established a wholesale coal department. He then turned to management of the shipping business in 1881, when it was organized as the Banning Company. He has been at the actual share of the company and the shipping organization.

He was captured last week in the act of robbing a bank and came in for a long stay in the lock yesterday morning in the Sheriff's Hospital.

HIS SERVANTS

Banning left a wife, two children and a daughter. The widow is Anne Phyllis Smith Banning, daughter of the late Mr. Judge George R. Smith. She was married in November, 1908. Banning founded the Crown Shop here. His wife was identified with similar success in the same line in social and club circles. The sons are Hancock Banning, Jr., George Banning and Hugh Banning. The daughter is Mrs. John C. Pasadena.

Robert E. Banning, 101 South Hawthorn avenue, and Mrs. Mary Banning, 101 North Washington of Paris and New York, are also relatives of the late Mr. Banning.

CROOKS WARNED TO LEAVE CITY

Underworld Gets Ultimatum
"Gunmen Must Go"
Organized Drive Against Gangsters Opened

Action Taken to Prevent Criminal Influx

"Gangsters and professional gunmen get out!" Such was the emphatic ultimatum that was sent into every corner of the local underworld last night, following the formation of an organized drive against all hired killers, which threatened to start a hasty wholesale migration of dangerous crooks from Southern California and to fill up the City and County jails.

The challenge was broadcast throughout the underworld at the conclusion of a conference of the leading law-enforcement officials of the county, held at the District Attorney's office late yesterday afternoon and called by Acting Dist. Atty. Pitts to devise means of riding Los Angeles of an impending menace to human life which has developed out of the machine-gun battle between enemy running factions at Long Beach last Monday night.

The drive against the gangsters became effective at the end of the conference, and every police officer and deputy sheriff in the county was dispatched to every highway in the underworld to round up the gangsters and killers who have been coming into the city in large numbers within the last few weeks.

The proclamation of Acting Dist. Atty. Pitts is a professional gunman must go.

"The police department, represented by Chief of Police, Capt. Finlayson, chief of detectives and Inspector Davis, in charge of the police, and the Sheriff's office by Sheriff Trager and Under Sheriff Rieckman and Chief Criminals, all agreed to cooperate with them to the fullest degree. Those cases involving a violation of the law, which are now being handled by the police, will be vigorously prosecuted by this office. The police department and the Sheriff's office are determined to drive these killers and gunmen out of the city. This is a professional fight, and it will be fought to the end."

From various sources information has filtered into official circles that Los Angeles has been selected as a harbor for some of the most dangerous hired assassins, racketeers, run-runners and hi-jackers in the country. To Los Angeles they have flocked, attracted by the thought of launching here a reign of terror and gangster rule similar to that which has occurred in eastern cities.

In Los Angeles, in the last few weeks, a so-called "boom" in the number of hi-jackers and run-runners has been organized on a huge business basis. A struggle is on in the underworld to eliminate all competition in illicit liquor traffic along the Southern California coast and thereby establishing an increase in revenue in liquor sales. Among the asserted independent run-runners who are now being driven out of the city are Tony Corneo and because of his refusal to pay the "boom" money, his "death warrant" has been signed by the so-called "boom" men. Other independent run-runners also have been marked for death.

"Every official of the police department, the Sheriff's office and the District Attorney's office is taking and tired of these professional killers in their efforts to gain a hold on the city. Human life and property is jeopardized so long as we permit them to remain here," Acting Dist. Atty. Pitts declared. "It is the duty of the law-enforcement officials of this city to drive them out of the city. If they do not leave voluntarily, they will be driven out by force. The law is on our side, and we will win."

SITUATION NOT SERIOUS
Acting Dist. Atty. Pitts explained that the situation is not so serious as present but that the driving out of the city or the rounding-up of every suspected hired gunman will save the city from the greatest crime wave it ever has seen. This crime wave is scheduled for the winter months here. It also will elude to some extent the burglary, robbery and murder situation which confronts Los Angeles every autumn and by riding the city with the law, the foremost of the undesirable army of crooks and killers the officials believe that a much graver situation will be avoided.

All suspicious characters taken in the drive will be given "banned" status, which means that they will be watched by the police and if they are found carrying a gun or other weapons, they will be arrested and sent to the county jail. The drive is being carried out by the police, the Sheriff's office and the District Attorney's office.

Before the battle of last Monday night between rival factions of hi-jackers and run-runners, the shooting of three men and the arrest of Tony Corneo, asserted "king" of the hi-jackers in the city were known to the authorities. Since the battle practically every gunman has become known to the officials and they, with their leaders, some of whom include wealthy ranslars, will be given their marching orders first.

"Before another day has passed the news will be filtering through the underworld of every city in the country that Los Angeles is an unsafe place for gunmen and crooks," every official at the conference declared last night.

"With the electrification of some of the steam roads, and a centralized point of departure, we, in Los Angeles, will have a rapid transit system unique in the country.
The railroad opposed the plan,
Foster schedules and more trains will follow as a direct result."
Mr. Whitcomb sketched the development of the Plaza terminal, which began as a scheme to eliminate grade crossings. From this grew the idea to erect a central railroad station, which resulted in the plan for the Plaza terminal.
The matter was taken before the state Railroad Commission. The city and state fought the matter out with the railroad through state courts to the United States Supreme Court, and eventually to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which recently decided in favor of the city.

position, physicians said.

Wife of Suspect Stevens Accuses "Spider" Geck as
"Brains" of Alleged Kidnap Plot

Pauline Stevens, wife of one of the three defendants in the Mary Pickford kidnaping conspiracy, and Claude A. Holcomb, another of the defendant trio, shared honors for the defense at the trial yesterday in Judge Meluskey's department of the Superior Court.

Mrs. Stevens, clad entirely in black, proved a deadly serious witness for the defense, in contrast to the nonchalant and drawing Holcomb, who smiled for the greater part of his period on the stand, and failed to remember many things.

Mrs. Stevens was visibly tense
as she took the stand, but she responded to the questions of the prosecution with a calmness that her answers forth without pause, though her voice quavered and reached a wailing pitch at times.

She said her husband, Charles Stevens, indirectly declared that Louis Geck, known as "the Spider,"
who is one of the state's chief witnesses, was the brains of the conspiracy, and the man who had arranged and perfected the alleged kidnaping plot.

WORKED AS NURSE
She declared that she met Geck
in New Mexico while employed as a registered nurse by the Philadelphia Corporation in one of the mining hospitals operated by the company. He had been brought there for treatment, she said, after a motorcycle accident in which a woman with whom Geck had been keeping company figured.

For four days previous to the arrest of her husband and the three other suspects, she declared, Geck called her husband by telephone each day. The day preceding the arrest of the alleged conspirators, she said, Geck called her husband and asked him to go to the Haywood Hotel, where the plot is said to have been hatched. That night her husband took her to the Hollywood Hotel, where she declared that she could not rouse her husband and that he appeared to be under the influence of both drugs and liquor.
She believed had been given to him
at Geck's apartment.

Cross-examined by Dep. District Attorney McCortney, she stuck closely to her story and left the stand with her testimony unshaken.

Holcomb, smiling and untrifled,
was the next witness for the defense. He began by a statement that the kidnaping plot was first broached to him by Stevens, but that the latter informed him that Geck was the man behind the entire affair, and was the originator of the plan.

GECK IDENTIFIED
He told of frequent rides during which Charles Chaplin and Mary Pickford were looked over and of visits to Geck's room in the hotel "where we always had plenty of liquor."

Geck, he said, told him that a woman was supporting him and supplying the liquor for the party staged in the room. He identified Geck in the courtroom as his host and the man with the liquor.
But he could not remember discussing any kidnaping plan except in 1923. The matter was broached once or twice to him later, he admitted under the relen-tant examination of McCortney, but

"The custom of passing the collection basket, as church is not nearly so beautiful, from a standpoint of devotion, as the practice of the Buddhists in placing flowers at the feet of the statue at their religious Gautama," declared Capt. Dudley E. Corlett in a lecture yesterday before the Masonic Club at the Alexandria.

"We occidentals have lost the art of quiet reflection, although the practice of daily meditation would render us stronger physically and mentally and more efficient in business."

"Christian nations will never succeed in abolishing war until the people of the Christian nations learn how to control their emotions, and their abstinance from certain kinds of food and stimulants."

statutes of Buddha as lamp stands

that the orientals would not be guilty of this using the figure of

Them Under Civil Service

Legislation affecting third and fourth-class postoffices was the principal topic considered at the opening session of the annual convention of the California-Nevada branch of the National League of District Postmasters of the United States at the Alexandria yesterday.

The convention, which is attended only by postmasters of the third and fourth class, was called to order by Charles A. French, president of the organization, at 9 a. m.

An address of welcome was delivered by Assistant Postmaster Foster of Los Angeles in the absence of Postmaster O'Brien, unable to be present on account of the recent death of his wife.

WANT CIVIL SERVICE
The subject of legislation was introduced by R. Guy Smith, postmaster of Moss Beach and the secretary-treasurer of the local league.
"Our principal effort at this time should be to obtain a law placing third-class postmasters on a civil service basis," said Mr. Smith.
"Such a law is already in effect with reference to offices of the fourth class, but this does not offer much relief. Whenever a fourth-class office works up to the third class, it immediately comes under the disadvantages growing

Yesteryear afternoon the delegates devoted to a tour of the motion-picture studios. In the evening they attended a banquet at the Alexandria, where they were addressed by Frank Merriam, speaker of the California Assembly. The program today includes addresses
by Congressman Frederick. Postoffice Inspector Lowe and J. F.
Bourne, superintendent of mails of Los Angeles, in Los Angeles
will take place just before the close of the concluding session this afternoon.

REPEAL DUE
ON PORT RAT
WAR RULES

Federal Restrictions to be Lifted Next Saturday
Surgeon Announces

The Federal restrictions on Los Angeles Harbor, placed incidental to the fight against rats here, will be removed the 15th inst.

This was made known in a letter from Dr. Rupert Blue, assistant surgeon-general in charge of the United States Public Health Service. The letter was addressed to the State Board of Health, which has been conducting the most important part of the rat extermination work in this vicinity.

The Federal restrictions consist of sanitary statements necessary to shipments of goods through the port and to the fumigation of vessels. Coastwise vessels have been required to be fumigated once every six months and trans-oceanic vessels every time they visit the harbor.

These regulations, which will now be removed, were placed as precautionary measures after the isolated outbreak of plague in this vicinity and were required by international law. They are now removed because no evidence of rat plague has been found in the harbor district for six months, which by law is the period specified to prove that the trouble has been definitely eliminated.

Burbank Group
Has Boulevard
Paving Session

The Burbank Board of Trustees
called a special meeting of property owners last night to determine the class of paving desired on San Fernando Boulevard, the main arterial highway connecting Los Angeles with valley points north.

The paving is poor and the community recently appropriated $45,000 toward repair.

Two styles of paving were discussed at the meeting, six-inch concrete or five-inch concrete with a two-inch surface layer of warren-ite. The latter style has been indorsed by City Engineer Van Norman of Los Angeles. It was the opinion of those present that it will be adopted.

Mayor Crawford announced at the meeting that it is impossible to obtain state aid for highway repairs; that expenses must be borne jointly by cities and counties.

NEW MARK SET

light, some of whom had attended similar trade functions in the large eastern centers, were high in their praise of the local affair, both as to the quantity and quality of the merchandise displayed and to the manner in which the Los Angeles manufacturers conducted their exhibit.

Convinced market week furniture exhibits are the life of the trade in which they are engaged in stiffing by means of new ideas in style and design the spirit of progressiveness necessary in every branch of commercial activity, the local manufacturers outdid themselves in presenting their exhibit.

VARIED DISPLAY
Everything for the home, apartment, hotel and clubroom was on display, and the finished product demonstrated clearly that Los Angeles manufacturers are producing the finest goods in their line,
a fact that out-of-town buyers were quick to appreciate.

"Never before has there been such a demand for California-made furniture," declared Secretary Singer. "A good deal of credit for this spirit no doubt is due to the Federation of Women's Club, and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who have educated the public into buying made-in-Los Angeles products. Another factor is the friendly committee appointed by both our organization and the Retail Furniture Dealers' Association, two bodies that got together and smoothed out differences that were hindering local products."

A measure of the success in making the exhibit an outstanding success no doubt was due to the sympathetic handling of the crowds of visiting buyers. A free taxicab service from downtown points to the exhibit building was maintained. Lunch was served in the building each day by one of Los Angeles' leading caterers, and an entertaining program, consisting of recognized, theatrical and musical talent and well-known speakers, provided the right amount of diversion.

Although the exhibit was not open to the public, 5000 persons, buyers and employees of local factories, crowded the hall last night, and today is expected to draw a like number.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURE
The large number of high-class
Los Angeles apartment-houses and hotels, it was revealed by the market-week display this year. Bids fair to gain local manufacturers
a reputation for producing distinctive and space-saving styles of furniture. Two companies, it developed, were displaying dining tables designed for apartment use, each featuring patented disappearing additions to the surface that were declared to be a great improvement on old styles in which additional boards had to be inserted.
In each case the manufacturer declared that the idea was fostered by apartment and hotel needs. The designs are expected to be popular throughout the country.

Another stimulus to local furniture manufacturing, it was pointed out, was the proximity of Los Angeles to Guatemala, the source of what is known as tobacco mohogany, a finest grade of mahogany, and to the Philippine islands, which also produce mahogany. Already Los Angeles has one of the furniture factories that devotes its entire output to solid mahogany furniture, some of which is hand-carved throughout and produced to meet the demands of the most wealthy and exacting customers.

Board Permits Bus Stands in Hill and Olive

Public-vehicle stands will be allowed in Hill street and Olive street on the Pershing Square side, it was stated yesterday by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, if the Park Commission grants its permission.

The declaration came yesterday
at a special meeting, when the application of the Sightseeing Bus Owners' Association, represented
by Harry Hill, was considered.

Under the new vehicular ordinance the board has authority to designate taxi stands, not more than three in a block, if the property owner grants permission. The bus owners applied for three stands in Hill street and three stands in Olive street. The requests were referred to the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation.
